Explanation of Cost and Payment Plans

Mission: The Moore Auditory Training Approach individualizes evaluations, treatment programs, and training protocols integrating the brain's auditory system with inner-ear vestibular and visual processing skills for preschoolers, students, and adults.

Phone Consultation Fee: $92.50

- Review Moore Auditory-Visual Questionnaire Report
- Depending on MAVQ Report and location of client
 - Work and/or School Accommodation letter
 - Provide letter for audiologist when behavioral characteristics are significant
 - Collaborate with client and audiologist

Home or office visit: $90.00

- Complete TAVS test (screens auditory processing skills using calibrated equipment to assess need for a referral to an audiologist specializing in Central Auditory Processing testing)
- Complete visual processing activities to identify referral and accommodation needs

Emailed to client after initial visit:

- TAVS report (share with audiologist, ENT doctor, therapists, teachers)
- Letter to share with audiologist I recommend (will call your audiologist)
- Work and/or School Accommodation letter

Audiologist and ENT doctors bill your insurance company. Insurance companies cover the cost of hearing tests, except Uncomfortable Loudness Test. It is the client's responsibility to call the insurance company to learn if a referral is required for the Ear, Nose, and Throat doctor and a separate referral for the audiologist. You will need to be prepared to pay for the Uncomfortable Loudness Test, when requested, which is not covered by insurance.

Insurance does not cover the work completed by Moore Auditory Integration Training. All fees are the responsibility of the client or parents/guardians.
